

The outmoded guidance in RG 1.165 was based on site and region-specific investigations combined with a probabilistic seismic hazard assessment. The new guidance in RG 1.208 incorporates developments in ground motion estimation models and new methods for defining site specific ground motion response spectrum which allows for approximately consistent performance of structures, systems, and components across a range of seismic environments.

request, where to submit it, form and content of reconsideration requests, and other matters relating to reconsiderations.

Any person aggrieved by an initial determination of PBGC under § 4003.1(b)(1) (determinations that a plan is covered by section 4021 of ERISA), § 4003.1(b)(2) (determinations concerning premiums, interest, and late payment penalties under section 4007 of ERISA), § 4003.1(b)(3) (determinations concerning voluntary terminations), or § 4003.1(b)(4) (determinations concerning allocation of assets under section 4044 of ERISA) may request reconsideration of the initial determination. PBGC estimates that an average of 796 appellants per year will respond to this collection of information. PBGC further estimates that the average annual burden of this collection of information is 0.30 hours and $601 per person, with an average total annual burden of 231 hours and $478,575.

- Evaluate whether the collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the agency, including whether the information will have practical utility;
- Evaluate the accuracy of the agency's estimate of the burden of the collection of information, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used;
- Enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and
- Minimize the burden of the collection of information on those who are to respond, including through the use of appropriate automated, electronic, mechanical, or other technological collection techniques or other forms of information technology, e.g., permitting electronic submission of responses.
